WORK SUMMARY

Marketing Operations Data Analyst

IBEX Global Philippines | Apr 12, 2021 - Dec 02, 2024

Nearly 4 years working at IBEX mainly supporting one of their clients, Nutanix. An American cloud computing company that sells software, cloud services, and software-defined storage.

My key responsibilities include but not limited to the following:

- Reporting and Analytics: Provides actionable insights to our EMEA key stakeholders by creating and maintaining reports. Regularly producing weekly, monthly, and quarterly reports to ensure stakeholders are informed on campaign performance, sales pipeline, audience targeting, etc. Providing data-driven recommendations based on the reports to help the team achieve their KPIs (Key Performance Indicators) and make strategic decisions.
- Funnel and Pipeline Analysis: Monitoring the flow of leads through various stages of the sales or marketing funnel to understand conversion rates, and tracking the sales pipeline to identify areas of improvement or growth.
- Audience Targeting Insights: Analyzing how well different audience segments are being reached and engaged, offering recommendations for optimizing targeting strategies.
- Identifying System Gaps: Investigating and identifying any discrepancies or issues in how funnel credits (which track the journey of leads through a sales or marketing funnel) and pipeline attributions (which credit the correct touchpoints or actions in the sales process) are being tracked. Ensuring Backend Logic is Correct. Verifying that the technical systems, databases, or algorithms responsible for tracking funnel credits and pipeline attributions are functioning as expected. This may involve reviewing code, data flows, or integrations to ensure that the data is correctly being captured and assigned to the right campaigns, activities, or stakeholders.
- Managing the EMEA Database: Overseeing the entire database of contacts, leads, and accounts in Salesforce for the EMEA region. This includes ensuring that data is properly organized, up-to-date, and accessible for stakeholders across different teams. Actively working on enhancing the quality of the database through data enrichment, deduplications, and data acquisition. Working closely with the Global Marketing operations team to investigate and identify gaps or issues in the database that may arise due to system errors or inconsistencies. Resolve discrepancies and work to ensure proper integration across platforms and systems to maintain a unified and reliable data set. Ensuring that all data related to the European Union is managed in accordance with GDPR (General Data Protection Regulation) requirements.
